Marva Collins In The Classroom This 2-hour program was filmed at a demonstration conducted by Marva Collins with a 3rd grade class. Ms. Collins had never taught these children prior to this session. Indeed, their teachers and the school's administrators considered this class to be completely uncontrollable. Observe how Marva Collins uses important lessons from classical literature to teach values – in this case, she used passages about the conscience from William Shakespeare's play, King Richard III, to teach how our conscience can ultimately haunt us. The language is Shakespeare's; it is not a version written for children. In this lesson, Ms. Collins teaches all of the language arts' skills, and she demonstrates how she encourages students to think and to reason. In the process, she eliminates discipline problems in the process, by engaging the children in discussion. This program is unedited deliberately. No attempt was made to excise "difficult" moments with disruptive students through selective editing. Indeed, none occurred! What you will observe is exactly what occurred, from start to the conclusion of this classroom demonstration. You will see a class of scholars in the making!	2 Disk DVD Program	$72.50
Building Blocks for Excellence New learning is accomplished by adding information to previously acquired knowledge. Discipline and motivation, like facts and figures, are learned processes. This highly acclaimed package features the celebrated Marva Collins approach to educating and motivating children in an easy-to-use audio, video, and workbook format designed for parents, teachers, and students.	 Cassette Program	$99.50

Phonics Wall Cards Phonics is the key that unlocks the mystery of reading. Marva Collins has designed these tools in a structured and effective approach to teaching and learning phonics. Both sets of 45 cards are colorful, and contain the same information, from the many spellings of the long vowels, to blends, and more. The large set is appropriate for classroom display and will be visible to all students including those seated at the back of the room.	 Large Size	$99.75
Phonics Wall Cards This set contains 45 cards, as does the large size, and is colorful with the same graphic, contains the same information from the spellings of the long vowel sounds, to blends, and more. The smaller set is designed especially for working with small groups of students such as in home, and tutoring environments.	 Small Size	$59.95
Phonics Resource Kit A complete guide to phonics and how use reading selections to teach all language arts' skills for Kindergarten to 6th grade. This is a complete program that will take the teacher through the entire academic year. Please specify the grade when ordering, and allow about 6-8 weeks for delivery.	K - Third Grade	N/A

Parent Training The parent is the child's first teacher, and undoubtedly the most important one. This audio cassette by Marva Collins gives insightful information about how parents may work with their children effectively.
